Unit 331: Investigating current issues in children's care, play, learning and development in Wales.

Extended Investigation Autumn 2022

Information for Centres

Preparing for the assessment

This assessment requires candidates to investigate a current issue in children's care, play, learning and development in Wales.

Two topic areas are provided in the Candidate Pack. Candidates must be allowed to select the topic they wish to investigate. The topic areas provided are broad and candidates may choose to focus their research on specific 'focus areas' within the topic. These chosen 'focus areas' should be central to the topic.

Teachers are able to discuss and provide feedback to the candidate on their chosen topic and focus areas but this feedback should be limited to posing critical questions of the candidate for example, Will the chosen focus areas allow them to address all the set tasks?

Candidates will need to carry out independent research using a range of resources to investigate their chosen topic and focus areas. They will need to collect adequate and reliable evidence in preparation for the completion of the controlled tasks.

Candidates must be allowed no longer than two weeks to research from the assessment pack being issued to them.

Candidates should be encouraged to produce a plan for their research, giving consideration to:

- valid, appropriate, reliable and traceable resources/sources that they intend to use
- how they will collect evidence as part of their investigation in preparation for completing the set tasks
- the outcomes required for each set task.

Candidates are allowed to amend their chosen focus areas in light of their research should their original focus area(s) provide insufficient material.

Completing the controlled tasks

Candidates have 15 hours to complete the tasks within this assessment. It is the responsibility of the centre to ensure that candidates do not have any longer than the designated 15 hours.

No feedback should be given during the 15 hours.

Candidates are allowed access to their research when completing the controlled tasks. The centre is responsible for ensuring that no additional research is taken into the assessment environment after the controlled assessment has commenced and all research used by the candidate must be retained by the centre until the end of the assessment period and may be requested by WJEC during this period.

All evidence for this assessment is to be submitted to WJEC for external marking by 7 December 2022.

Please ensure that all work submitted for marking is clearly identified. It is recommended that the centre name and number is included, and that candidates' names and examination numbers appear on every page.

Unit 331: Investigating current issues in children's care, play, learning and development in Wales.

Extended Investigation Autumn 2022

Instructions for candidates

Preparing for the assessment

This assessment requires you to investigate and write about a current issue in children's care, play, learning and development in Wales. You will need to draw on knowledge and understanding gained from across the qualification and your work placement.

Two topic areas are provided in this Candidate Pack. You will need to select the topic you wish to investigate. The topic areas provided are broad and you may choose to focus your research on specific areas within your chosen topic. Your chosen focus areas should be central to the topic.

You have a maximum of two weeks to complete your research.

You should plan your research, giving consideration to:

- valid, appropriate, reliable and traceable resources/sources that you intend to use
- how you will collect evidence as part of the investigation in preparation for completing the set tasks
- the outcomes required for each set task.

You may discuss your choice of topic, chosen focus areas and planned research with your teacher.

There are no restrictions on the resources you may use when undertaking research.

The evidence for this task is an extended piece of writing approximately 5000 words in total (not including referencing and bibliography). You will have 15 hours to produce this evidence under controlled conditions.

Once the controlled assessment has started, you will only have access to the following resources:

- information and evidence collected during your independent research
- class notes
- work placement resources.

There will be no access to the internet during this time.

Your evidence must address all the tasks outlined on pages 8 and 9.

Your work must:

- be completed under controlled conditions
- be your own work
- not be removed from the examination environment once the 15 hours has commenced
- be completed without any teacher/tutor input.

You and authorised centre personnel will be required to sign a declaration that all work presented is your own work and that it has been completed in 15 hours under controlled conditions.

Topics

You must select one of the following topics to research:

Topic 1

Children may experience a range of significant factors during childhood.

Research how a range of factors may affect the health and well-being of children.

Topic 2

Children benefit from accessing a range of learning environments and experiences.

Research the value of children experiencing a range of learning environments to promote their learning and development.

You must undertake independent research using a range of resources to investigate your chosen topic and focus areas. You will need to collect adequate and reliable evidence in preparation for the completion of the tasks.

Your chosen focus areas should be appropriate to allow you to investigate in enough detail to access all available marks. You will need to be able to explain, analyse, evaluate and draw conclusions in relation to how the chosen topic can support children's care, play, learning and development.
